To parents and pupils,

I am writing to thank you for the part you have played in protecting others and saving lives. I appreciate that the past year has been difficult and there have been challenges for us all, but we could not have got through the pandemic without your efforts and resilience.

I recognise that the system of bubbles and isolation has caused immense disruption to children's education. Home schooling has been difficult for parents and children alike but now that restrictions are being eased, support will continue to be provided on catching up and ensuring no pupil is left behind. You have all made immeasurable sacrifices to protect the elderly and vulnerable in society, so please rest assured that education remains a national priority for the Government as the country builds back better.

Please also take note of HAF (Holiday Activity Fun in Dudley) which may be of interest to children and parents. Further details can be found by following this link –

We could not have gone through the pandemic without both parents and pupils rising to the challenges of the past year, so once again, I can only say a huge thank you.

Yours Ever,
